SOUTHERNERS GET SUPPORT FROM SEN. JACKSON FOR SOME CIVIL RIGHTS ISSUES

Washington (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) supported today a jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill. He said he was unwilling to "endanger one civil right to guard another."

His stand in a prepared Senate speech lined him up on the jury trial issue with the bill's Southern opponents after he had voted against them on other phases of their battle.

The jury trial proposal shaped up as the issue that may determine the course of the battle over the House-passed measure, on which the Senate now is starting a fourth week of debate.

Charge Reds Spread Unrest In Guatemala

Guatemala, (AP)—The minister of defense has warned that Communists are spreading rumors in an effort to create unrest after the assassination of President Carlos Castillo Armas.

Col. Francisco Oliva, virtual ruler of the country during a 30-day state of siege declared after Castillo Armas was shot down Friday night, called yesterday for citizens to report any Red activity.

The army reported the country calm and warned it would "repress drastically any subversive outbreak."

A government spokesman said several "suspected accomplices" had been arrested for questioning about the assassination by a palace guard whom officials identified as a militant Communist.

Castillo Armas was succeeded by the 56-year-old first vice president, Luis Arturo Gonzalez Lopez, Congress went in a body to see the temporary President, who told it the country and the world were satisfied with the way constitutional processes were working.

The five political parties, all pro-government, pledged their support to the army and ratified Gonzalez' assumption of office.

The state of siege might delay national elections scheduled for (Turn to Page Seven)

If a jury trial amendment is adopted, indications are that the Senate may pass the bill late this week or early next week. If not, a Southern filibuster may break out and prolong the fight indefinitely.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the Dixie forces, said he thinks the vote on the jury trial issue will be very close.

Senate Republican leader Knowland of California predicted defeat for the jury trial amendment. The jury trial issue springs from the authority the bill would confer on the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions against violations or threatened violations of the right to vote.

Under present law, defendants in contempt of court cases growing out of injunctions obtained by the government are not entitled to a jury trial.

A amendment offered by Sen.ators O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), Fefauer (D-Tenn.) and Church (D-Idaho) would provide for jury trials in all criminal contempt cases—whether they involve civil rights, labor disputes or anything else and regardless of whether the government is a party to the proceedings.

Waynesburg (AP)—Atty. John Daily, the self-styled "Weather Prophet" of this Greene County community, took up his annual "rain watch" today.

For years Daily has bet that it will rain within the borough limits sometime on July 29th. Statistics favor him. In the past 80 years it has failed to rain here only eight times on a July 29.

This year Daily offered his usual wager of a hat to Bob Considine, newspaper and television personality. Considine said he'd give Daily an umbrella if it rains.

The weather bureau has predicted scattered thundershowers for the area.

Former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey is one of the few who have won. He got $50 in 1946 but turned it back to the city to help pay for a new community swimming pool.

Edgar Bergen and his sidekick Charley McCarthy won a hat in 1948. That year Waynesburgers did their darndest to make it rain—donning raincoats and rubber boots.

Corbett Calls Kinzua Dam One Of Key Projects in Program

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

AP Special Washington Service

Washington (AP)—Rep. Corbett (R-Pa.) said today the time is coming when every waterway in Pennsylvania will have to be "harnessed" in order to guarantee an adequate water supply for domestic and industrial purposes.

"It won't come in our day, but we should do the spade work now," he told a newsman.

One of the key preparations for a sufficient water supply for the anticipated greatly increased population of the future, he said, is the proposed Kinzua, Pa., dam on the Allegheny River in Warren County.

Billed largely as a flood control project, Corbett believes its water supply functions will be just as important.

At present, the Kinzua Dam appropriation—one million dollars to begin construction—is awaiting its turn for action in the Senate while debate proceeds on civil rights legislation.

The Kinzua project is one of many included in an omnibus public works bill already approved by the House and by a Senate committee.

In addition to the million dollar starter for the Kinzua Dam—expected eventually to cost in the neighborhood of 125 millions—the omnibus bill includes appropriations for other flood control projects which also should aid the water supply of the future.

These include: Bear Creek Reservoir, $2,200,000; Bradford, $500,000; Dyberry, $2,000,000; Promont, $1,700,000; Stillwater, $2,000,000.

Looks Like Big Fight Will Go On Tonight

New York (AP)—Promoter Emil Lence said this morning that on the basis of the most recent U. S. Weather Bureau forecast, tonight's Floyd Patterson - Hurricane Jackson heavyweight title fight would go as scheduled.

Patterson's first defense of his title is set for 9:00 p. m. (EST), at the Polo Grounds. The champion is a 5-1 favorite.

In the event of a postponement the fight will be put over until tomorrow night, and if it rains then, the match will be held Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Dulles Flying To London To Speed Up Talks

By RONALD THOMSON

London (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles was flying to London today to take a personal hand in the stalled five-powered disarmament talks at President Eisenhower's request.

One prime purpose of the trip reportedly was to work out a precise "open skies" plan for Europe which the European allies would support.

Dulles will confer with Harold E. Stassen, chief U. S. delegate to the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee, and with Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

British newspapers described the secretary's visit as a "major event in international affairs" and expressed hope it would provide a turning point in the long efforts to end the East-West arms race.

Officials in Washington said what Dulles learns in his consultations may decide whether the disarmament talks should continue or recess.

The U. S. diplomat and his aides came here from talks with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker of Canada, one of the participating nations in the subcommittee talks.

Dulles was reported to have received Canada's support for the U. S. proposal for mutual aerial inspection of arctic zones in Canada and Soviet Russia as one phase of a first-stage disarmament agreement.

Dulles' arrival coincided with presentation at the five-power talks of U. S. proposals for implementing Eisenhower's plan for aerial inspection zones on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The open skies plan calls for a check on whether any arms reduction of control agreement is being faithfully carried out.

Former Convict Is Charged With the Killing of Boys

Brockton, Mass. (AP)—Raymond F. Ohlson, a sallow-faced, 20-year-old convicted sex offender, pleaded innocent today to two charges of murder in the woodlands stabbing of two young brothers last Friday.

Ohlson was held without bond by Associate Justice Maurice J. Murphy in Brockton District Court. Murphy ordered a continuance to Aug. 8.

The slightly built Ohlson was charged with the deaths of John Logan, 12, and his brother, Edward, 11, by stabbing them repeatedly after marching them at knife point into the woods from a public pond.

Ohlson was released from Concord Reformatory only seven weeks ago after serving six years for an attack on another boy.

Ohlson's criminal record shows he was arrested for sexual assault on a 3-year-old boy in 1949 and was released to his parents' custody. In 1950 he was arrested for a brutal sexual attack on a 12-year-old boy and was sentenced to the reformatory in 1951. He was released June 7 after four years were deducted from his 10-year sentence for good behavior.

Arkansas Woman Killed In Clarion Co. Accident

Clarion, (AP)—A two car crash at the intersection of Routes 36 and 68 in nearby Leeper yesterday killed Mrs. Lillian Marshall, 74, of Little Rock, Ark.

Mrs. Marshall was a passenger in an auto driven by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Marshall of Erie.

State police said the Marshall car was involved in a collision with an auto operated by Henry Parker, 46, of Tarentum. Mrs. John Marshall escaped with minor injuries.

Heart Association Aids Hospital

Once more, the generosity of Warren County people, through the Warren Chapter of American Heart Association sponsored by Warren Lion's Club, has made it possible for Warren General Hospital to have unusual but much-needed, costly equipment. At left on the table is a Defibrillator which is used for applying stimulus to the heart internally. At right is a Pacemaker which, by application of electrodes to the outside of the body, can induce a stopped heart to beat again. This response can maintain consciousness, pulse beat and blood pressure indefinitely, 103 hours in one reported case, until spontaneous cardiac activity returns. From left are Arthur Marceca, Heart Fund campaign chairman; Dr. J. T. Valone who accepted the gifts in behalf of the medical staff; Dr. Larry Krespan, Lion Club president, Wendell Peterson, past president of Warren County Heart Association; Joseph A. There was one death by drowning, one electrocution and one death in a mine cave-in.

Moderate Parties Score Victories in Argentine Voting

Buenos Aires (AP)—Moderate parties scored a dramatic election victory yesterday for caretaker President Pedro Aramburu in his drive to reform Argentina's constitution.

With more than 7½ million votes counted, pro-reform parties held a two to one lead in the popular vote and appeared headed for a combined working majority in a new 206-member constituent assembly. Boastful Peronists suffered a setback.

Unofficial calculations thus far in the complicated proportional representation system gave the pro-reformists at least 75 seats to the anti-reformists 35. The faction with at least 103 seats will control the assembly in this first election since Juan Peron's overthrow in September 1955.

Nearly complete popular vote returns gave the moderate parties 3,922,205 votes to 1,830,302 for the anti-reformists. Peronists had called on their followers to vote blank to give the exiled dictator a moral victory. He had boasted from Venezuela a few days ago he would receive 75 per cent of the vote. The nearly complete returns showed 24 per cent blanks.

The Communists, who had their own ideas about reforming the government, received about 207,000 popular votes, far more than they received in previous elections.

The bridge—spanning the Monongahela River—connects the South Hills and South Side districts.

Services Being Held Today At Endeavor for Two-Year-Old Victim of Shooting Accident

Funeral services will be held today for a two-year-old Endeavor boy who was accidentally shot in the head by his youthful uncle who was baby sitting for him Friday morning.

Terry Lee Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Holmes, Jr., of Endeavor died at 3:50 p. m. Friday in Warren General Hospital, about six hours after he was accidentally shot in the head by an old .22 bolt-action rifle.

Terry, one of three children, was being watched by his uncle, Larry Johnson, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson of RD 1, Tidoute.

According to State Troopers of the Tionesta substation and Forest County Sheriff Yale Wilson who investigated the tragic mishap, Young Johnson was loading the old rifle in the bedroom while the three Holmes' children were in the adjoining living room.

The rifle went off as Johnson closed the bolt. Troopers said that the old gun had no safety catch.

The bullet struck Terry, who was sitting in a chair, in the forehead over the right eyebrow. The bullet lodged in the back of his skull.

He was taken to Warren General by a neighbor, William Howe of Endeavor. The mishap occurred about 9:45 a. m.

Ed C. Lowrey, Warren County Coroner, said death was accidental.

Larry, brother of Mrs. Holmes, had been living with the family for the past month or so taking care of their children while both parents worked. Mr. Holmes works for Endeavor Lumber Company and Mrs. Holmes is employed by Warren Plastics.

Apparently Johnson found the gun, located some shells and began to load the weapon.

The body was taken to Rhodes Funeral Home in Tionesta. Terry was born in Warren General Hospital February 7, 1955, a son of Herman Jr. and Frances Johnson Holmes. Surviving besides his parents are two brothers, William E. Johnson and Herman Holmes III at home.

The body was taken to the family home from where funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. today. Interment followed in Kiefer Hill Cemetery.

Embezzler Tries Fire and Shooting To Hide His Crime

Philadelphia (AP)—A banker stole at least $22,600 then shot himself and set fire to the bank records yesterday in a vain attempt to hide his deed, the FBI said.

Authorities lodged embezzlement and arson charges against Norman Van Artsdalen, 41, of suburban Springfield, as he lay in St. Agnes Hospital being treated for a superficial gunshot wound of the shoulder.

Van Artsdalen, manager of the Marconi Savings and Loan Assn. in south Philadelphia, was found crawling from the bank yesterday morning by a passer-by who saw smoke pouring from the institution.

He was quoted as saying he was coming up basement stairs in the bank when he was slugged on the head and lost consciousness. When he awoke he saw fire in the vault, crawled to a window and dropped out onto the street. He said he didn't know he had been shot until doctors discovered it.

Carl E. Hennrich, agent in charge of the FBI office here, said Van Artsdalen went to the bank Saturday night and removed the money from a vault. He then wrapped it in a package and brought it to the home of friends, Hennrich said, telling them it was a surprise for his wife and asking them to keep it over the

FIFTY BUILDINGS REPORTED TOPPLED IN THE CAPITOL; LOSS IS OVER $8,000,000

BULLETIN

Mexico City, (AP)—Soldiers blocked off many of this capital's major streets today as demolition squads began tearing down buildings dangerously damaged by earthquake. Sunday's quake, the worst in the memory of Mexicans, rocked thousands of square miles and caused damage of millions of dollars but took a surprisingly low death toll. Here and in five other cities 42 were known dead. No U. S. citizens were among them. Despite forecasts that further tremors might be expected, none was registered during last night. Thirty tremors were registered yesterday after the main shock. At least 50 buildings were toppled in the capital. The capital, with its population of four million, was hardest hit. The state of Guerrero, with famed Acapulco and its capital of Chilpancingo, was next.

By CHARLES H. GUPTILL

Mexico City (AP)—Inhabitants of central Mexico dug their way out today from the rubble of the worst earthquake in local memory. The big shock toppled 50 buildings in Mexico City alone, killed at least 43 persons and wreaked more than eight million dollars damage.

At least 20 persons were reported missing and more than 500 seriously injured in the quake, which ripped the earth all the way to Acapulco, on the Pacific coast. But officials agreed the casualty toll appeared remarkably low in view of the quake's severity.

Thirty-two bodies were taken from collapsed buildings in Mexico City. Eleven other persons perished in the southwestern state of Guerrero. Three of these were in Acapulco, six in the state capital, Chilpancingo, and two in nearby towns.

The President's office said the governor and chief of the military zone of the southwest state of Michoacan denied reports there were any dead in that area. An earlier report had said there were 72 dead in that state.

New Secretary Of Treasury Is Sworn In

Washington (AP)—Robert B. Anderson took on the post of secretary of the Treasury today, assured by President Eisenhower that "you'll find here a warm welcome."

Eisenhower's remark after the oath-taking ceremony in the cabinet room of the White House seemed more a reference to the difficulties of managing the nation's finances in current times than a simple greeting.

Eisenhower held a Bible, on which Anderson placed his hand, as Judge Warren Burger of the U. S. Court of Appeals administered the oath to the new cabinet officer.

Anderson, 47, has been meeting with Treasury officials to prep for the cabinet post most of the time since Humphrey announced his resignation May 29, effective (Turn to Page Seven)

State police said James H. Bell, owner of the car, suffered minor injuries. A fourth occupant, James Brown, was admitted to Aliquippa Hospital with a broken thigh and other injuries. He was in fair condition.

Officers said they could not determine who was driving.

Planning Route for Keystone Shortway Will Take Some Time

Harrisburg, (AP)—The State Highways Department expects it will be "a long, drawn-out job" for two consulting engineering firms to plan a route for the Sharon - Stroudsburg Keystone Shortway.

"It's going to take them a long time to establish the best route—we're a long way from that now," a department spokesman said.

He named the two consultants as Gannett, Fleming, Corddry and Carpenter, Inc., of Harrisburg; and Michael Baker, Jr., Inc., Rochester, Pa., the consulting engineers to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission. Agreements with both firms were made "soon after" the May 23 federal approval of shortway inclusion in the interstate system.

Once the two firms arrive at a recommendation it will be submitted to the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. Only when it gains federal approval can design work begin.

rotue now—there can't be, no matter what anyone says," the department emphasized. A recent report on a "route" given by a department field employee was termed "simple conjecture — because no one has anything to talk about."

The two engineering firms must first fly over the central Pennsylvania area to determine possible routes. Then contour maps will be worked out. After ground inspections the most likely route will be chosen and detailed maps drawn. The final cost estimate, as submitted to federal officials by the department, was 269 million dollars for the 290-mile road. The federal government will pay 90 per cent, the state the remaining 10 per cent.

Despite earlier word from B. D. Tallamy, federal highway administrator of the Public Roads Bureau, no description of the general route approved for the shortway has been forwarded, the state

"SOMETHING OF VALUE" AT LIBRARY THEATRE

Tracing the rise of the dreaded Mau Mau organization, who vowed to erase the white man from Africa, the picture shows spine tingling scenes of their attacks on the white settlers, the burning looting and murder, and the native ceremonies of witchcraft and voodooism.

The conflict leaves its mark on Peter McKenzie (Rock Hudson), the young rancher forced by circumstances to become an avenger of the Mau Maus on Holly (Dana Wynter), his wife on Kiani (Sidney Poitier). Peter's native companion who becomes his enemy and on varied assortment of white settlers and Africans caught up in a blood bath of violence and savagery.

The African Mau Mau uprising only recently quelled by the British, has been in newspaper headlines for the past five years. M. G. M.'s depiction of this dramatic event in "Something of Value" makes for a powerful engrossing motion picture. Now at Library Theatre.

ABC ON CIVIL RIGHTS BILL

Associated Press News Analyst James Marlow furnishes this "ABC" on the Civil Rights legislation currently spotlighting the news out of Washington:

This week's Senate fight on civil rights involves voting rights. But the argument is on whether a person charged with contempt of court should be tried by a judge or a jury.

This is an ABC on it.

The civil rights bill proposes that when someone interferes with individuals' voting rights, the attorney general can ask a federal judge to issue an order to stop it. The person disobeying can be charged with civil contempt or criminal contempt.

Roughly, this is the difference:

Charging a man with civil contempt is intended not to punish him but to make him comply with the court order while there is still time.

The criminal contempt charge based on willful disobedience is intended to bring punishment after it is too late to comply.

Say Registrar Jones stalls on obeying a court order to register 100 Negroes. The attorney general tells the judge. Election day is still weeks away. The Negroes could still vote if Jones registered them.

The judge tries Jones for civil contempt and, finding him guilty, slaps him in jail for an indefinite period. Jones can get out as soon as he says he will obey the court order and register the Negroes.

But said Jones has stalled until after election day and that the attorney general then tells the judge. It's too late for the Negroes to vote now. The judge tries Jones now for criminal contempt.

If he finds Jones guilty, he sends him to jail with a definite sentence. Jones now can't get out by saying he'll comply. It's too late for compliance. The election is over. Jones is simply being jailed as a punishment for disobeying.

Southerners and their non-southern supporters, argue that a jury trial in a criminal action is so sacred that it must be guaranteed and preserved.

The bill's supporters contend that a judge in voting rights cases should be able to try by himself and without a jury for both civil and criminal contempt. And for this reason:

The bill's purpose is to protect people's voting rights, not just to punish someone. Therefore its primary purpose is remedial and not punitive. But the judge should have the power to strengthen the authority of his order, to punish anyone disobeying him.

LOOSE GRIP ON LIFE

Not too long ago some reporter in a big city began tabulating traffic violations he observed in his regular driving rounds. He collected a fantastic list in a short time.

Anyone can do the same, if he likes, when he's spinning along the open highway. Try it some day.

If you do, the chances are that the most noticeable flaw in driving technique will not be an offense punishable under the law but a mere act of carelessness. It most likely will be the failure of most motorists to grip the steering wheel properly.

In handling a modern automobile with its tremendous power and potential speed, constant control is clearly a vital key to safety. You must be able to manage the car in any developing road situation, no matter how critical.

This being so, it is absolutely astonishing to see how many drivers hold the wheel casually with one hand—or even a few fingers—while the other is draped out the window in some foolish attitude of relaxation suitable to a living room couch but not a speeding car.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

If any of thine be driven out unto the outmost parts of heaven, from thence will the Lord thy God gather thee, and from thence will he fetch thee.—Deut. 30.4.

God works in a mysterious way in grace as well as in nature, concealing His operations under an imperceptible succession of events, and thus keeps us always in the darkness of faith. —Francis Fenelon.

"Hard to Read With That Light So Far Away"

Here and There

This coming Saturday in Youngsville, August 3, will be the 50th anniversary of a gala day held there in 1907. "Saturday, August the third, is to be Gala Day in Youngsville. It has been set aside as the official good time date of the combined forces of the I.O.O.F., the band and fire department. The factories will be closed and everybody for miles around is expected to come and help celebrate. Numerous games have been planned."

The same column revealed a delicate situation of some Warren boys who swam in the river and who had to robe and disrobe in the shadow of some bushes, in which the 50 year old articles states that "Inasmuch as a bath house would make the pastime more popular, council should be able to spend $5 or $10 in accommodating the boys." What kind of a bath house could be erected for $5 or $10? Maybe that's what council thought, too, because in the Warren Evening

Mirror, July 27, 1907, an article read: "Work of constructing a bath house on the south side of the river, near the Suspension bridge, will begin next week. A majority of the members of the Council have signified their willingness to appropriate from the Borough funds the sum of $100 for the purpose." Now we seem to be getting someplace! "An effort will be made to raise by subscription an additional sum to provide a toboggan slide." What happened? This fell through, according to a "spectator" of the time. "The convenience will be much appreciated by the boys who frequent the swimming pool under the bridge."

Congressional Feet Drag on Hoover Report Economies

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Congress is having difficulty making budget cuts that will stick and making new money appropriations over and above what the administration has asked for and this points up the fact that one field of real economizing is being almost completely neglected.

This is the reduction of government costs by application of the Hoover Commission recommendations.

Two years ago the second Hoover Commission made more than 300 recommendations for increasing government efficiency. To date, only 100 have been put into effect.

This year, only three Hoover plans have been fully approved by both houses of Congress and become law. Seven others have passed the Senate. About the same number have cleared the House. All the others are piled up behind the civil rights bill log jam. The chances for further action this year are considered slim.

SO DISCOURAGING is this situation that President Eisenhower has asked Congress to give him just five of the reorganization measures this year.

One of them extends Reorganization Act authority for another four years so that something will get done eventually.

A second would give Congress annual review of the unspent, carry-over appropriations from previous years. They now amount to more than 70 billion dollars. This is roughly equivalent to what this year's budget will be. Congress has no control over this money, the way the books are kept now.

A third request is to abolish the postal savings system.

A fourth is to permit the government to train specialists in private universities.

The fifth is to remove from congressional review government agencies' authority to dispose of surplus real property.

Clarence Francis, chairman of the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Reports, points to several other Hoover Commission recommendations as offering great potential savings.

ONE IS to create a civilian-controlled Defense Supply and Service Administration to handle procurement of items which are used by all the armed services.

A second proposal would create a Federal Council of Health which would consolidate the hospital services of a score of government agencies. They now compete with each other for doctors, nurses and medical supplies. Some hospitals are overcrowded while others are half-empty.

The third Francis priority recommendation is to make Congress give up its authority to prevent the closing of business-type operations run by government agencies.

Most of these businesses are now in the Defense Department. But over 700 of them have been closed or scheduled to close in the last two years. And more would be abandoned if Congress would give up its veto power.

being one of the last commands to leave the grounds. The handsome trophy, presented in the regiment was presented to Company M by Lieutenant Colonel Rickards Thursday evening in the presence of Governor Stuart and staff. The presentation took place after the review of the brigade by the governor. Company M had the highest rating at the spring and fall inspections. It is said the next brigade encampment will be held at Columbus, near Corry. Good luck on inspections, Company M!

"The trustees of the State Hospital for the Insane at North Warren now have the sum of $237,500 which was appropriated by the last legislature and which is available for the erection of two ward buildings, with a capacity of 125 patients each" was the story fifty years before Secretary of Welfare Shapiro visited the institution last Thursday and just transposed the act. The article continued: "An infirmary building which will accommodate from 50 to 70 male patients, accommodations and attractive dwelling for the steward of the institution, a water works system, piggery to cost $6,000, freight house to cost $3,000, macadam roads within the hospital grounds, dynamos, etc., all of which are urgently needed by the hospital." Architect E. A. Phillips, of Warren, was being considered by trustees of the hospitals to do the constructing of the proposed buildings. "The institution is still in a congested condition notwithstanding that it has been relieved to some extent by the three cottages, which have been completed and occupied, and the new buildings will be finished as soon as possible, although it will be impossible to do much with them during the approaching winter months as there is not time to place them under cover before snow comes."

Here's another item from the files of fifty years ago of interest to readers today: "State Game Commissioner Kalbus declares the rainbow trout from California were driving the native trout out of the streams of Pennsylvania and that there was grave danger of Pennsylvania trout becoming extinct. The commissioner also sharply criticizes the practice of placing trout fry in streams, saying that fingerlings or short trout should be put in. They have more chance to grow." Fish was a problem fifty years ago, too. Today it's the quality of fish they've got to worry about, but now there isn't too many native trout left. In the same column, a note stated that bass weren't limited, "according to County Detective Hiram Brown, of Franklin, who has written State Commissioner Meehan on the subject, bass fishermen are not limited to ten in a day in any other waters of the state than Lake Erie . . ."

Ever try to get into a line of solid traffic from a side street or road? You know how exasperating it can get waiting for an opening in traffic that seemingly never comes. Then, some kindly motorist will stop and give you a chance to get into the lane of traffic. It's a good feeling, isn't it? And the motorist who left you in is a nice, courteous fellow, isn't he? Well, next time you see some other fellow motorist in a similar predicament, why not practice a little courtesy yourself and give him a break, suggests the Governor's Traffic Safety Council. You'll feel better and discover—courtesy is contagious. So get the habit!

Money Spent on Family Vacation Is Not Wasted

"WE could have redecorated the living room for what our two weeks' vacation trip cost us," I recently heard a woman remark.

Maybe so. But the family that goes away for a happy holiday doesn't really need to have the living room redecorated. Just as it is, it is bound to look good to them when they return home.

Furthermore, if it has been a really successful vacation, the family will come back with enough new ideas, new interests and pleasant memories to make life more fun in the stay-at-home months ahead.

And they'll settle back into the routine of living with its constant demands and obligations, refreshed and renewed.

On a vacation, too, members of a family are drawn closer together. Because they can't go their separate ways, they seek the kind of relaxation and fun they can enjoy together.

NOT WASTED

SOMETHING of all they do and see and share they take back home with them. It adds a glow to family life.

So it is foolish to measure a vacation in terms of what the money spent on something else could have bought.

Having "something to show" for the money you spend isn't always of the utmost importance. There's not much for a family to show when they return from a happy vacation trip, outside of a few snapshots or home movies and a few souvenirs.

But if they take up life refreshed and have happy memories stored away, they come back richer for the time and money spent. Nothing was wasted.

But not, of course, if they worry because they haven't anything to show for what they spent.

His Pitt Scholarship

Congratulations are in order for one of Warren High's outstanding matmen, Don Brian, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Brian of 22 North Carver street, who has been awarded a complete four-year scholarship by University of Pittsburgh.

While wrestling on the Dragon varsity, Don was unbeaten three of four years and, holding the all-time win record, is the only wrestler in WHS history to win both Section and District Championships three times.

Competing in the 136½-pound weight class of last Olympic try-outs, at Pittsburgh in 1956, he was the youngest wrestler to win a first-place gold medal by defeating some of the toughest college competition available. Also winning medals in the AAU Great Lakes Wrestling Tournament in Erie, the AAU-YMCA Tournament in Harrisburg, he was also one of two Warren men to reach the finals in the AAU matches held in Warren in 1953, when he was still in the eighth grade.

An honor student, Don graduated in the top third of his class this June, having served as vice president of Spanish Club and

AUXILIARY MEETING

President Rose Falconer presided and 15 members attended the regular meeting of Sugar Grove American Legion Auxiliary. It was reported the Legion building has been given a good housecleaning, new draperies have been purchased and hung.

Members planned to visit the Erie Veterans' Hospital July 30 to conduct bingo games for the patients; Gladys Meleen, voted 1956 president, tendered her resignation and Hazel Stearns was named to the office. Further reports showed both the Fife and Drum Corps and the Auxiliary float winning convention parade honors.

To conclude the evening, Henrietta Leight and Agnes Lester served refreshments.

Slaps Get Us Nowhere With Attention-Demanding Child

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

EARLY one afternoon a friend of Maida's mother whom she hadn't seen for three years dropped in for a visit.

It wasn't very successful. Maida's baby brother behaved beautifully. He permitted himself to be thoroughly admired; then fell asleep almost as soon as he was placed in his crib.

But Maida refused to take her nap. Finally when she had to be allowed downstairs, she used every reason she could think of to divert her mother's attention from the guest. The loose wig of her doll needed securing. She had to go to the bathroom. Where was her book with the picture of the three baby kittens?

At last, exasperated beyond endurance, Maida's mother slapped her—and took her back upstairs.

THERE Maida succeeded in her purpose. She got rid of the guest. She screamed so long and intrusively that the guest couldn't stand it and remembered she had some shopping to do.

Thus, slapping our attention-demanding tyrant gets nowhere. The experienced parent has learned this—and deals with him by arranging attention to him BEFORE he starts in to demand it.

You take an old pillow slip. Into it you put some of Maida's forgotten toys. On your first trip downtown, you visit the dime store where you pick up some new ones. These you mix in with the old ones and tie the bag shut.

THEN you call Maida to you and say, "This is your Surprise Bag. It only comes out of the closet when we go to see people or people come to see me. Before I start talking to them, I'll open the Surprise Bag. With your eyes closed, you can reach into it, and see what you find. After that you can reach into it one more time. Now before I put it away, close your eyes, reach into it—and see what treasure you find."

When the Surprise bag succeeds in reducing Maida's attention demands, don't run off with the idea that she's been soothed by the toy watch on playing cards she's pulled out of it.

What has fed her hunger for our attention is the sight of the white bag beside our chair—its visible, comforting assurance that her happiness is on our mind even while we seem to be attending to our guest.

Two-in-One Bottle Speeds Up Job

This is an age in which every girl can have lovely hair if she'll make use of the many beauty aids available to her. Home permanents daily become easier to use and give better results than they used to produce. Latest development is that of taking the messiness and the dripping goo out of the home permanent process. This girl (left) uses the sponge top of a pink plastic applicator to apply waving lotion in one even stroke. Then (center) she removes the sponge top, refills the applicator bottle with neutralizer and sprays it directly into the curl. And here she is (right) with her finished hairdo. She's set it in a simple and becoming style: softly waved bangs and gentle waves that will be easy to manage.

BY ALICIA RART, NEA Beauty Editor

WE all know it is impossible for a woman to be truly smart unless her hair is well styled. But even the most beautifully styled hairdo will not be successful if the hair and scalp are not in good condition.

There is little excuse today for dingy hair, unless it is caused by some serious scalp trouble that requires medical attention. If you have no scalp disorder, shop around to find which of the many excellent shampoos and hair conditioners suit your hair best and use them faithfully. You will find that your hair will become springy, alive and easy to manage.

Don't try to cut your hair at home. Get a good professional haircut. It's well worth the expense, for a style that is created just for you will minimize many beauty flaws.

Most of the current hair styles are simple to care for. With the use of non-lacquer sprays, they can be kept in place from one shampoo to the next, with no additional setting required during the week.

A home permanent is another excellent aid for keeping your hairdo in place. It will give body to the hair and hold the setting more firmly.

The home wave, which at one time was such a bother to apply, is now a good deal simpler and less messy to handle.

One of the home wave manufacturers offers a new applicator that applies both lotion and neutralizer to the hair. This beauty helpmate is a pink plastic squeeze-type bottle that holds enough lotion and neutralizer to finish each operation, so that you needn't bother filling and refilling halfway through each step.

It is topped with a removable sponge exactly the width of one curl. This sponge spreads on the lotion in one easy, even stroke, thus eliminating combing, squirting and dripping.

When the curls are wound and soaked with lotion, simply remove the sponge top and you'll find eight tiny spray tips. Refill the bottle with neutralizer and spray it right into the heart of the curl.

With modern hair sprays, lovely color tints, easy-to-give home waves and hairdressings that bring out beautiful highlights, there is no need for anyone to have dull, lifeless hair.

Make use of them all, and remember to brush your hair religiously. Lovely hair is the frame for a pretty face and is a far greater contributing factor to beauty than the loveliest clothes or the most expensive cosmetics.

Gathered From The Party Line

The Misses Hulda Angermann, MayBelle Barstow, Camilla Henderson and Mrs. Homer Swick left Sunday to attend the Presbyterian Leadership Training School at Wilson College in Chambersburg.

Becky Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Irwin of Terrace street, has left to spend a week at the Baptist Camp Judson on Lake Erie. Returning Saturday after spending a week at the camp were Grant and Greg Geiger, Pam and Debbie Snyder and Sue Tipton.

It will interest friends to learn that Mrs. Margaret Rowland, formerly of 17 West Third avenue, is spending the summer with the Arthur Chapman family at Marblehead Neck, Mass.

Looking forward to the annual reunion of former teachers, students and friends of Sugar Grove Seminary, Secretary Mabel E. Dallas of Jamestown has mailed out 500 reminder cards for the August 13 event. Announcements in area newspapers constitute invitations for those in the immediate area.

Salvation Army Picnic at Celoron Enjoyable Affair

More than eighty persons made up the happy group which went by chartered bus and by car to Celoron Park at Jamestown on Saturday for the annual family picnic as guests of the Warren Corps of the Salvation Army. Some sixty boys and girls, accompanied by and attended by nearly twenty adults comprised the group which left at 10:00 a. m. and returned quite tired and a little dusty, and very happy at 9:00 p. m. from the day's outing. With little difficulty this group managed to consume six cases of soft drinks, many dishes of home baked beans, countless sandwiches, pounds of "goulash", fifty 1/2 pints of chocolate milk, and nearly twenty quarts of ice cream. In addition they used up picnic tickets for almost 2500 rides on the amusements at the park, as guests of the Corps.

This picnic has been for many years a highlight of the summer activities of the Salvation Army. Other summer activities included the sponsoring of periods at Camp Allegheny for Salvationist young people and adherents of the Corps. This year already eight boys and girls have been sent to this camp for periods varying from one week to two weeks of camp activity. The Men's Fellowship group, with their wives, will hold a dinner meeting at a local establishment this week. The Women's Home League will also conduct its annual outing for members early in September to complete the schedule of summer activities of the local Corps, according to Sr. Captain James A. Dible, local commanding officer.

Dining Tables Can Be Versatile

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

WHEN you plan a dining area, take into account how you'll use it. Let that be a guide to what you buy.

Of course any dining area must be convenient to the kitchen.

Storage pieces should provide for the storing of table linens, flatware and some serving pieces and china. Modern, moderately priced dining-room furniture gives us a good selection of versatile pieces. Young homemakers can start with a buffet, then add a hutch top later for more storage space.

What kind of a table should you pick? Clues to your answer may be found in these factors: how many will regularly be dining at it, how often you entertain, and how you would like to use it between meals.

If yours is a family of five or six, for example, you'd probably favor a table that can be set to accommodate them without adding extra leaves. If you entertain often, you should consider extension tables that can open up to seat eight or 10.

Some families regularly eat in a kitchen dining area. For them, provisions for more formal dining are needed only occasionally.

If space is a problem, narrow drop-leaf tables may offer a better solution than a stationary large one.

ROUND DINING TABLES have mushroomed in many furniture

Ensemble of round table and comfortable chairs is adaptable. With white leather writing case, table serves as desk here. Opened, it seats eight; closed, it doubles as game table. Finish is teak walnut. Chairs are turquoise. Buffet has recessed drawer pulls of brushed pewter.

collections. With a diameter of about 40 inches, a round table can seat four comfortably to dine. More can gather around it for games. Most of those I've seen extend to seat quite a few on occasion.

Square extension tables also double as game tables. If you don't have an extra desk or if the one you have is overcrowded, the dining table is a time-honored substitute.

Giving new fashion to this use are beautiful portable leather "desks" which are equipped with blotter and compartments for stationery or letters. These, in a lovely range of colors, can be stored in full view with their contents well concealed.

Although matching chairs are usually chosen to team up with the dining table, this is not an inflexible rule. This is especially true with tables that follow the soft, simple lines of contemporary design and are finished in the warm, natural wood tones. One decorator tells me that he often likes to use black lacquered chairs as a contrast to lighter woods.

FOREST CO. BURGLARY

The interiors of some camp buildings were ruined, police said. Windows were broken, furniture was slashed, and miscellaneous items were dumped on the floor and scattered about.

STRAIGHT UP—An F-105 Thunderchief climbs straight up demonstrating its tremendous power. The two "half-V's" where wings meet the fuselage are newly designed air-intake ducts that inhale air at great speeds to help the airplane fly faster than sound without "choking" the engine. Scheduled for service with the U.S. Air Force's Tactical Air Command, the Thunderchief is a single-seater, which, officials say, can carry conventional or nuclear weapons inside or outside.

SUMMER "STOREKEEPERS"—These bare-chested Bay Shore, Long Island "businessmen" are on deck with a modernized version of the old lemonade stand, dispensing canned coolers instead of the traditional home-mixed ades, and capitalizing on the "sanitary" advantages. ## Champ Is 5 to 1 Favorite To Whip Tireless "Hurricane" Jackson in Chicago Tonight

New York (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson is a 5-1 favorite to whip tireless "Hurricane" Jackson in their 15-round title fight at the Polo Grounds tonight but the eccentric challenger thinks he's a 1-5 favorite to win.

"I'm gonna chop him up," says Jackson, 25. "I only wish the fight could be to a finish with the man landing at the end being the winner."

If it was an alley brawl without any officials Jackson certainly would rate a better chance. But over the 15-round distance, Tomny's chances appear as slim as he odds against him. The odds are 5-1 that Patterson, 22, making his first defense of the crown he won by flattening Archie Moore last Nov. 30 in five rounds, will stop Jackson in their return bout.

Patterson won his way to the Moore shot and the title by gaining a split decision in 12 rounds at Madison Square Garden June 8, 1956. He broke a bone in his right hand in the fifth round but rocked Jackson repeatedly with volleys of lefts and rights to the head.

The pick here is Patterson on a technical knockout within 10 rounds.

There has been hardly any wagging on the bout and there hasn't been any great rush to the box office for dress manufacturer Emil Lence's first promotion of a heavy-weight title fight—the first such by an independent promoter since the International Boxing Club stepped into the fight picture in 1948.

Just the same Lence is confident that with a break in the weather he can gross $350,000. This plus the $175,000 for the radio-television rights could assure the tiny promoter of a smash success. The prospects, however, indicate a crowd of 25,000—and a gate of $250,000. That could put Lence in the black too.

Patterson has been guaranteed $175,000 against 40 per cent of the gate and radio-TV money. Jackson collects 20 per cent.

Frank Zupo, $30,000 bonus catcher of the Baltimore Orioles, Friday night became one of the youngest players ever to be ejected by a major league umpire. The 17-year-old player was given the thumb at Baltimore from the playing field by Umpire Ed Hurley while Zupo was warming up Ken Lehman, Oriole pitcher, for the second game against the Chicago White Sox. Zupo wasn't even a contestant in the game.

According to a dispatch from Pittsburgh the advance training squad of the Pittsburgh Steelers has been delayed in leaving for its Olean, N. Y., training camp. The camp will not open until Wednesday. The Steelers announced yesterday the signing of a new trainer and two players. The trainer, Zip Brooks, of Warren, Ohio, will succeed Russ Craft. The players are veteran guard Art Michalik and Joe Krupa, a sophomore power tackle who played with Purdue. The main squad will report to camp August 4.

Erie Girl Pitches Team To The Championship

Erie (AP)—If Angie Palmero is a mite tired today she has good reason—she pitched the Erie Skip-pers to the state women's amateurs of ball championship in something of an "iron man" stint.

The Reading Breeze Inn team was undefeated and Erie had lost one game when yesterday's final rounds arrived in the annual double elimination tournament.

Miss Palmero pitched the Skip-pers to a 3-2 victory over Burgettstown then hurled her team to a 3-2 victory over Reading.

But Reading still had a chance until Miss Palmero went to work. She not only pitched her team to a 4-3 victory but knocked in what proved to be the winning run with a seventh inning double.

Keeping Baseball Records Is an Important Business

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Leroy, whose life's work is keeping a detailed account of unassisted double plays by the first baseman, walked into the office with a frown on his face.

"My list," he said, "it still shows a half dozen more than the book shows for the last nine years. I got to check it."

As Leroy went to work, the mailman arrived with a note from a guy in Bath, Me. "In the first three weeks of 1954," it began, "official records missed a total of four assists made by pitchers. I know I am correct and I list them below so you can check and correct the records."

A typical day had started in the offices of the Elias Baseball Bureau, the New York statistical outfit whose figures are used by the National League plus the International, Eastern and other minor leagues for official records.

"DO NOT," Seymour Siwoff, the Elias president and chief figure man, warns, "call us crazy. This is a legitimate, important business."

The case of Stan Musial would seem to bear him out. The Man ran his consecutive game streak to 862 in the first game of a double-header in Pittsburgh. He sat out the second game as the Cards took an 11-2 lead. In the month, with a St. Louis runner on first and one out, the game was suspended. It will be finished Aug. 27. Everybody immediately wanted to know what will happen if Musial appears as a pinch-hitter during the little bit of play on Aug. 27. Will his record go on?

They turned, of course, to Seymour. A baseball record is only a piece of paper until Seymour enshrines it in his Little Red Book of Baseball. Therefore, his attitude on Musial is important.

"There is a three-man committee of baseball writers to handle such problems," Seymour says. "But there won't be any problem. Musial is too nice a guy to take any at bat in the game."

FOR 19 YEARS, Seymour has been the closest thing to baseball's all-time statistician this side of an adding machine. To him, a baseball player is a name who hit .319 in the Sally League, stole 13 bases in the Eastern League, then made it big with a .312 average in the National.

"What do you say when you describe a baseball player?" Seymour demands. "He could be an international murderer, but the average guy starts off by giving his name and batting average, with homers and runs-batted-in."

In keeping with this, Seymour starts off each morning of his seven-day week by opening a paper on the subway and reading the box scores first. His lips move as he reads the type and then starts to figure out the player's new batting average in his mind.

ACTUALLY, HE ISN'T strong on mental figuring. He makes use of a calculator so that the guy next to you at the bar is telling the truth when he spouts that, say, Gil Hodges hit .249 in his first full year as a Brooklyn Dodger.

"We had a fellow here once," Seymour says, "who could do it all in his head. Bob Burger, he's a professor at Dartmouth College now, would stand around and do Eastern League batting averages for the week in his head. He never made a mistake."

There isn't a writer in the East who doesn't rely heavily on Seymour's knowledge of figures and past performances of players.

Name the ballplayer, from Class D up, and Seymour has something on him from his first time at bat until he retires.

Lions Take Opener of Three-Game Series From Russell 5-0

Warren Lions took the opener of a three game series from Russell Merchants 5-0. Lions hurler Barry Johnson was in great form allowing no hits and striking out 12. He was in charge all the time, facing only 21 batters in 7 innings. His mates backed him with two doubleplays. The Lions scored first in the second on Pat Hartnett's triple followed by Tom Yerg's two-bagger. Then in the sixth, they bunched 3 singles and Roll Poust's double for 4 more runs. Russell pitcher Ludwick allowed 5 hits and 10 runs in 6 innings.

One-Hitter by Cards' Young Von McDaniel Helps To Chop Braves' Lead to Half a Game

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press
The good burghers of Milwaukee likely will concede the Cardinals have a beauty in Van McDaniel, but if they're beckoning to their own Gene Conley today with their widest grins of the year, who can say they don't have a point?
Almost buried beneath 18-year-old Von's brilliant one-hitter yesterday that touched off St. Louis' double-header sweep of Pittsburgh was another big game from Conley that kept the Braves in first place in that torrid National League scramble.
In a month, the 6-8 right-hander, a native Oklahoman like McDaniel, has worked back to the form that made him one of the league's toughest a few seasons ago. His six-hitter enabled the Braves to defeat New York 5-3 and split a double-header with the Giants. It was his fifth victory in his last six decisions—all since he found the

Medical Men Claim Cause-and-Effect Relationship of Smoking And Lung Cancer Unsupported

By R. L. LIVINGSTONE
Washington (AP)—Two university medical men said Thursday that statistics suggesting a cause-and-effect relationship between smoking and lung cancer are unsupported by proof.

They were Dr. Harry S. N. Greene, chairman of the department of pathology of Yale University Medical School, and Dr. Ian G. MacDonald, clinical professor of surgery at the University of Southern California Medical School.

They testified before a House Government Operations subcommittee whose chairman, Rep. Blatnik (D-Minn.), said at the start of the day's hearing that the tobacco industry has been "conspicuously absent" from the inquiry. The subcommittee is studying the effects of smoking and what degree of protection is afforded by cigarette filters.

Blatnik said the industry has been invited to testify, but declined to send representatives.

"We have been informed that in spite of the mounting medical evidence that tobacco tars and nicotine are deleterious to public health, the cigarette industry is marketing a product with as much or more nicotine and tar than ever," Blatnik said.

"To date, the cigarette industry's response to all of these charges has been, in effect, 'No comment.'"

The industry financing research of its own on the question, has maintained generally there is no proof of a smoking-cancer relationship.

MacDonald and Greene both disputed the value of conclusions about smoking and cancer on the basis of statistics alone.

"The causation of lung cancer is much more complicated than the oversimplified thesis that it is due to cigarette smoking," MacDonald testified.

He said there is "a growing body of evidence" to indicate that various factors — environment, hereditary and even geographical — are involved in the increase in cancer.

MacDonald said a man would have to smoke more than 100,000 cigarettes a day to equal relatively the cancer-producing dose used in laboratory experiments on mice. He said that when the dose of tar was cut in half during such experiments, no cancer resulted among the mice.

"Thus," he added, "on my extrapolation, a man can smoke over 50,000 cigarettes a day and not be in danger of developing cancer from smoking."

MacDonald said that similar experiments on mice, using "samples of Los Angeles air" instead of tobacco tars, produced "considerably more convincing evidence" of a cancer relationship.

He said tests made with products filtered out of Los Angeles air—such as diesel fumes—produced tumors on 42 per cent of laboratory mice.

Greene, the Yale Medical School man, said, "The question of a casual relationship between tobacco smoking and lung cancer has been a persistent issue for a number of years."

Millions of women write this cryptic note on their calendars every month. It reminds them that this is the day to practice a life-saving technique.

You see, these are the fortunate women who saw our film BREAST SELF-EXAMINATION and learned a simple method of examining their breasts for possible signs of cancer. They learned, too, that most cancers are curable if discovered early and treated properly—that, indeed, many a woman has actually saved her own life by practicing BSE.

These millions of women recognize that cancer is a universal threat—and a personal responsibility. That's why they faithfully practice self-examination of the breasts once a month. The startling result is that 95% of all breast cancers are first discovered by women themselves.

But the present cure rate of 46% could be increased if more breast cancers were detected and treated early. That is why we urge every woman to see the film BREAST SELF-EXAMINATION. You can arrange to screen it at your club, your community center, at your plant or office. Just call the nearest unit of the American Cancer Society or write to "Cancer" in care of your local Post Office.
